CONTINUOUS ROADS OR NO FEDERAL AID

NO APPORTIONMENT AMONG THE COUNTIES OR DISTRICTS.

SPECIAL SESSION SOON

Much Interest Taken in Township Meetings to be Held Saturday to Discuss Roads.

Much interest is being taken in several of the townships in the meetings to be held Saturday for the purpose of discussing road legislation and of selecting five representatives to attend a county meeting in Maryville on Tuesday. These meetings were called by Representative Jesse Miller so as to ge the fullest possible expression of the people as to what is their desire and the method to pursue.

To get the $35,000,000 of federal aid which, in the regular course, will be forthcoming to Missouri within the next ten years, Missouri must spend its $60,000,000 of state bond money on a continuous system of permanent state roads, to be built under state and federal supervision. There must be no apportionment of the bond money among counties or districts, as the federal government will not deal with these political units. The roads must be continuous, with "persistence of route," in order to meet the requirements of Uncle Sam, and the state must furnish a guarantee that all highways built in part with federal aid will be properly maintained.

The Kansas City Star says: Attempts at road building on a large scale have been in progress in Missouri and the other states since the federal aid road act was made effective five years ago. This experience has yielded highly important lessons; and there is encouragement in the fact that a readiness to profit by these lessons is now evident. Here are the primary needs of the road building business that have been clearly demonstrated:

State systems of roads, connecting important centers and county seats, laid out with regard to other state systems and with the aim of helping to provide for a national system of highways.

The building of these roads under direct authority and supervision of the states, rather than the counties or separate communities; the work being carried out by nonpartisan, high class, state highway commissions through an efficient highway engineer and a corps of assistants.

The construction of the most durable highways that available funds will allow, the determining factor in the type of road built being the traffic needs of the sections, ascertained through scientific study.

Provision for maintenance of these roads at the very time they are designed ,and use of a patrol system that will place definite responsibility for the repair and preservation of every mile of road built.

In other words, the highway situation in Missouri and the other states demand the provision of the best possible roads for use by the greatest number of the people; for responsible, efficient and strictly nonpolitical action in the process, and for the thorough maintenance of these roads, to the end that permanent service may be furnished and an immense waste of the people's money avoided.

There is strong assurance that the next session of congress will throw about the appropriation of federal road funds such restrictions as will make possible the expenditure of government funds only in accordance with the clearly revealed demands of the situation. This will furnish an incentive to the various states to enact required legislation and to go forward with road building in a highly efficient manner. But it will not guarantee such state action.

A special session of the Missouri legislature soon will determine what the program of this state is to be in the big task of building highways. With the lessons of road building in recent years clearly in view, there will be absolutely no excuse for the devising of any program which will permit the shameful waste, inefficiency and lack of results that have characterized many portions of highway work in the past.

A committee was also appointed to find new quarters for the Bible class which has outgrown its old meeting place. The banquet was served at 7:30 o'clock and following the speeches, routine business was transacted.

HUNG JURY IN BERT MARTIN CASE

JURY STOOD 4 FOR CONVICTION AND 8 FOR ACQUITTAL.

"SPILLED THE BEANS"

Prosecuting Witness, George Schneider Told of Crap Games, Where They Were Held and Parties There.

The jury in the case of the State against Bert Martin (colored) for unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor was unable to agree and was discharged by the court about six o'clock last evening. It is understood the jury stood four for conviction and eight for acquittal. The case went to the jury about five o'clock.

George Schneider, the prosecuting witness, testified as to buying a pint of liquor from Bert Martin along about Christmas time last year for $6. When Schneider was cross-examined by L. C. Cook, counsel for the defendant, he "spilled the beans" and told of being in a crap game here.

Schneider told of being in Maryville Thursday, Friday and Saturday of Christmas week. Schneider testified in part as follows on cross examination:

Q. What were you coming to town every day for?
A. I had business up here?
Q. You were playing a little poker?
A. No, sir.
Q. Sir?
A. Wasn't playing no poker.
Q. Shooting craps?
A. Might have been shooting a little craps.
Q. Where were you shooting?
A. Down at the greenhouse.
Q. Who else was down there?
A. Oh, me and another fellow.
Q. Bert wasn't there?
A. No.
Q. Just you and another fellow? Now, then, Friday afternoon you and another fellow went down to the greenhouse to shoot craps. You wasn't drunk then?
A. Partly.
Q. Where did you get that booze?
A. A fellow gave it to me.
Q. Who was it?
A. A fellow named Kissinger.
Q. A great, big heavy set fellow?
A. Pretty big.
Q. And he gave you some booze that Friday afternoon?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did he shoot craps with you?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And got your money?
A. Sure.
Q. And gave you some more booze as you went along, didn't he?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And by night, you were pretty well jagged, weren't you George?
A. Oh, pretty well; I got home all right.
Q. Now, that was on Friday. Now, Saturday, were you back up town Saturday?

MISS BURRALL WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

ONE OF PINCIPAL SPEAKERS AT BAPTIST WOMEN'S MEETINGS

SPEAKS FIRST NIGHT

Head of Religious Education Department Stephens College, Columbia.

Miss Jessie Burrall, of Columbia, who will be one of the principal speakers at the Baptist missionary meeting this week, will arrive in Maryville Wednesday to be the guest of Mrs. W. A. Burris while here. Miss Burrall will speak to the girls at the State Teachers College several times during her stay in Maryville. Those who were delegates to the Student Volunteer convention in Columbia this winter met Miss Burrall and heard her speak.

Miss Burrall, formerly assistant editor of the National Geographic magazine in Washington, D. C., will speak at the opening meeting of the missionary society of the Baptist church at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Miss Burrall is head of the religious education department of Stephens College. The Sunday school class which she taught in the Calvary Baptist church in Washington, D. C., had 1,600 members. It grew from six girls to 1,600 in a short time and included girls of seven denominations.

She has a class for girls at Stephens College every Sunday morning, which is attended by a number of students from Stephens College and the University of Missouri.

"Do not be a sponge," says Miss Burrall. "No sponge ever discovers its true condition so long as it remains in a saturated atmosphere."

The New York Tribune says: "Miss Burrall is all snap and pep, vital radiant energy, contagious, enthusiasm and unquenchable optimism. She believes that every young girl has a natural craving for spiritual food. Perhaps there has been too much condiment and pickles in the form of spicy entertainment or too much indulgence in the froth of whipped cream and clothes interests."

Miss Burrall will give a toast at the banquet Thursday evening besides speaking other times informally. The second session of the meeting begins at 8:15 o'clock Thursday morning and will close Friday. Other speakers, who are prominent in the women's activities of the Baptist Church will appear on the program from time to time.

Those who are interested in Miss Burrall would probably be interested in the courses, which she offers at Stephens College. They are as follows:

Bible Teaching, special attention to the religious life of the college through student organization as well as special services, training courses for students desiring to devote their lives entirely to religious work on the home or foreign field; training courses for Sunday school and church workers; establishment scholarship and loan funds to aid students preparing for the mission fields, ministers' daugters, and worthy poor girls.

Over 100 visitors are expected for this annual meeting of the Kansas City district. The meeting will close with a banquet on Thursday evening.

PRESIDENT SCRAPS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS SAYS AMERICA WILL NOT JOIN.

SPOKE DOMESTIC AFFAIRS

Reduction of Governmental Expenditures, Revision of Taxation System, Adoption of a Tariff.

Washington, April 12.—Amid impressive solemnity, President Harding came before the assembly of the house and senate this afternoon and gave the nation the first outline of the new administration's foreign and domestic policies.

The foreign policy the president outlined definitely and finally "scraps" the eLague of Nations and declared America can never become a member.

The president declared he would approve a congressional resolution to get the nation back on a peace basis with Germany.

The majority of the president's communication was devoted to domestic affairs and to "national problems far too pressing to be long neglected." The president took up these momentous national questions one by one in detail and recommended reduction of governmental expenditures, revision of the present taxation system, including repeal of excess profits tax, early adoption of tariff to afford protection to American industries and American agriculture from foreign dumping, co-ordination of all agencies, soldier relief under single directing heads, placing railroads on a footing where they can pay their own way, development of a great merchant marine, continuance and development of the army and navy big air service as separate entities.

DECISION OF WAR OR PEACE THROWN ON MINERS SHOULDERS

Lloyd George Submits to Federation Basis of Settlement—Outcome Awaited.

London, April 12.—The first hopeful sign came this afternoon when it was learned that the National Union Railway men announced that an announcement had been made in response to inquiries from the provinces that the "Triple Alliance" strike has been indefinitely postponed.

London, April 12.—The final word of war or peace are again thrown on the shoulders of the miners this afternoon after a conference with the miners and owners. Lloyd George submitted to the miners' federation a proposed basis of settlement. Upon its acceptance or refusal depends the question of whether the triple alliance will call a threatened strike at midnight. Since the premier's proposition is at wide variance with the miners' demands, its refusal is looked for. The government and miners flatly reject the miners' most insistent conditions, that of pooling the mine owners' war profits.

SAM A. BAKER SPOKE AT S.T.C. ASSEMBLY TODAY

Told Young Folk To Look Where Going—Appropriations For Schools Shouldn't Be Neglected

At the assembly at the College this morning, Sam A. Baker, State Supt. of schools made a talk on education. The board of regents of the college also was present. The president of the board, W. A. Isaacs introduced one of the new members of the board, E. G. Voorhees of St. Joseph to the school. He made a short talk in which he expressed his interest for the school. He said that he would do all that he could to help the students and the faculty.

W. T. Carrington, the new field secretary for the college was also presented. He is here for the week inspecting the college and next week will go to different high schools of the district in the interest of the college.

In speaking of educationSupt. Baker said that many public speakers grow enthused with their own eloquence and exaggerate. He said that many speakers talk for a long time on what education is, without hitting the subject. According to him it is not what education is, but what education does. He said, "We must not only look where we are going, but also go where we are looking. We are beginning at the wrong end to develop character and education. The government appropriates millions annually for the upkeep of penal institutions, schools for correction, and police comissions, while the appropriations for schools are sadly neglected. If we did more for education we would have to do less for prisons. His view point was, if more people were educated there would be a great many less in the prisons and reformatories of the countries.

In speaking of luxuries, "More money was spent for luxuries in the United States in 1920 than has been spent for education in the countries history. Last year there was $22,700,000,000 spent for luxuries in this country, while ever since there have been appropriations for schools in the United States there has only been $16,645,000,000 spent on education.

After the speeches of the morning the orchestra under Mr. Kutschinski gave two numbers.

"STREAM OF LIFE" APRIL 15 AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Special Music Arrangement by Carl M. Roeder—Has Received Many Endorsements.

"The Stream of Life," the motion picture which is the third in a series of entertainments planned by the music committee of the First Christian church will be given April 15 in the church auditorium. The picture is edited by the Rev. James K. Shields with special music arrangements by Carl M. Roeder.

It is endorsed by the trade, press, clergy and laymen as the "Finest religious motion picture ever made." A few of the endorsements follow:

"As a production I believe the "Stream of Life" to be a new note in pictures equally as great as Griffith's "Birth of a Nation." J. L. Hoff, editor Motion Picture World, New York.

"The film picture, "The Stream of Life," surprised and delighted an audience that filled the Caldwell Theatre to overflowing. Many of those present lived again the scenes of their childhood. More than one husky man was kept busy swallowing the lumps in his throat as he passed out of the theatre and it is safe to say that many received anew strong incentives for better and nobler lives."—Caldwell, N. J., Progress.

"I wish to congratulate you upon producing such a splendid picture. It touches in a beautiful way, the deep springs of human life and answers the yearnings of the soul, reaching out for immortality and for God. You have made an enduring contribution to filmdom."—Capt. Richard P. Hobson.

"Mr. Shields is the author of the biggest and finest religious motion picture ever made."—C. C. Marshall, director Motion Pictures, Centenary movement.

"The motion picture entitled "The Stream of Life" is to my mind, a master. If we had more pictures like it, the churches and the moving picture houses both would be filled."—George McManus, cartoonist of New York.

When shown at Savannah, Mo., "a few weeks ago the house collection received amounted to $112. The pastor, Rev. Johnson says: "The Stream of Life is the best picture we have had. A truly wonderful picture and really worth while. If you have not had it, get it. While it is expensive, it is worth all it costs you."

Mrs. J. B. Trullinger of this place reports that some of her friends have just written her that it was shown in Tecola, Ill., to 3,000 people and they are demanding that it be dated for another showing.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XX.—MISSISSIPPI

THE State of Mississippi derives its name from the river which forms its western boundary. The word itself comes from the Algonquin missi-sepe which means "great river." It is popularly supposed to mean "Father of the Waters" but this interpretation is incorrect. The state is also known as the Bayou State from the many bayous which are formed by the shifting river. In this connection it is interesting to note the uneven course of the Mississippi river. Though the extreme length of the state from the Gulf to Tennessee is 330 miles, the western border, due to the winding of the Mississippi river, extends for nearly 500 miles.

The rivers play an important part in this state. They are so numerous and the country so subject to flood that the river bottoms cover nearly one fifth of the area of the entire state.

The early history of Mississippi is yoked up with that of Louisiana of which it originally formed a part. Discovered by De Soto in 1539, it was not until La Salle sailed down the river and claimed this territory, which he named in honor of his French king, Louis XIV, that a permanent settlement was established.

In 1763 the territory east of the Mississippi was ceded by the French to the English. For a while the lower portion of the present state was called West Florida. After being captured by the Spanish and later returned to the United States, the Territory of Mississippi was extended to its present size of 46,865 square miles and in 1817 it was admitted as the twentieth state of the Union. At the time of the Mexican war, although called upon to supply one regiment of volunteers, Mississippi responded with enough men for two. One of these regiments was commanded by Jefferson Davis, who later was the president of the Confederate states. Since its readmittance to the Union in 1870 Mississippi in national elections has been a Democratic state except in 1872, when it voted for Grant.

DECIDE TO LAUNCH EFFORTS FOR REFERENDUM

Circulation Of Petitions To Put Work Of Legislature To Vote Authorized

St. Louis, April 12.—An attack on legislation sponsored by the Republican administration and recently enacted by the general assembly, was launched here yesterday at a conference of the Democratic state committee, country committeemen and party workers from throughout Missouri when the groundwork was laid for invoking the referendum to tie up the measures.

The agricultural consolidation measure and those providing for judicial redistricting, creation of a budget department, state department of public welfare and state department of labor and abolishing the justice of the peace courts in Kansas City and the criminal courts of Jackson County, are to be referred, under the proposed plan.

C. E. Yancey, chairman of the Democratic state committee, was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange for circulating the referendum petitions. It is estimated approximately 50,000 signatures will be necessary to invoke the referendum. The measures, if subjected to a vote, cannot become operative before 1923. All will otherwise be effective about the middle of June.

Democrats have charged the bills passed by the Republican majority will legislate members of the Democratic party out of office.

A formal statement issued at the meeting today attacks Governor Hyde's program in its entirety, asserting the organization measures involve increased cost and "accomplish but one purpose—their real design—namely, to increase the power of the governor." Summing up, the statement charges the several bills constitute "flagrant repudiation of Mr. Hyde's campaign pledges."

The redistricting bill under which even more judges would be legislated out of office is characterized as "a judicial gerrymander," which is declared to be "the most impudently partisan measure ever passed by a Missouri legislature."

LIGHTNING HITS CAR PASSENGERS UNHURT

Chicago, April 12.—Lightning completely destroyed a Halstead street car during a recent storm, but the only injury to the thirty passengers was the nervous shock to several women who fainted.

The bolt followed a weird course, first striking a flagpole and shattering it, then leaping to the trolly wire. For a block it played along the copper strand until it came to the ill-fated car. There was a report like a bomb explosion which was heard blocks away and the car began to burn.

DICE ROLL "SNAKE EYES," CULPRIT PAYS.

Kansas City, Kan., April 12.—They shoot "craps" down at police court nowadays for freedom.

Charles Campbell, forty-three, arrested in a raid on a "craps" game, won a small fine because the "galloping dominoes" rolled "just right."

"Your'e a crap shooter, aren't you?" asked Judge Herrod.

"Oh, I'm not so good," replied Campbell.

"Well, roll these bones for your fine," the court decreed.

Campbell rolled. The dice showed "snake eyes." An ace was face up on each.

"Well, it's two for you and one for me," said the court. "Your fine is $3.00."

Campbell paid.

MAYOR STAGGERS UNDER LOAD OF SIX JOBS.

Peru, Mass., April 12.—Staggering under the load of being elected moderator, town clerk, treasurer, selectman and tax collector of this little Berkshire community, "Mayor" Frank G. Creamer had to battle desperately against having the additional office of town-assessor thrust upon him.

After the "Mayor" had appealed to his countrymen's sense of fair play, W. P. Smith undertook the job for three years.

Unperturbed by the nation's flop to Republicanism, Peru filled all its offices with good Democrats. "Mayor" Creamer and W. P. Smith. Seventeen of the thirty-six registered voters cast their ballots, but the sixteen women entitled to suffrage for the first time, failed to appear. The town went dry by one vote, reversing its last year's decision when the "wets" carried it by the same majority.

James Bolger, the "Mayor's" rival, went fishing.

The first rural free delivery in the United States was established in West Virginia in 1896.

FALLS TEN STORIES, BUT ONLY BRUISED.

Chicago, April 12.—Chris Ahern, 64-year-old watchman in the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company building, is back at work after a recent fall of ten stories in an elevator. The accident occurred when part of the elevator support collapsed. Ahern was taken to the Cook County Hospital, unconscious and supposedly dying. Only slight bruises were found, however.

"SAFETY FIRST" PROVES FAULTY.

Martins Ferry, O., April 12.—A local resident had several cases of bonded whiskey in his home.

When he learned the police were searching for booze in neighboring houses, he moved his cases into an alley beside his residence.

After the police had searched his premises, finding nothing, he started for the alley, intent upon restoring the cases to their places in his cellar.

But the booze was gone.

Several persons had noted his actions and removed the cases while owner and police were in the house.

How MICHELIN has overcome the commonest causes of tire trouble

NUMBER 1

Tread Cuts

When a tire is cut, dirt and moisture work in between the layers of cords weakening the tire and causing early decay.

Michelin Tires offer maximum protection against such injuries. The exceptional toughness and thickness of the Michelin tread prevent many cuts from penetrating; and if a cut does penetrate the injury is minimized by the Michelin body-construction. In this construction every cord is impregnated with rubber, the tire being a single mass that offers unique protection against the inroads of dirt and moisture yet is flexible in the extreme.

Let us show you a Michelin Cord.

HUNG JURY IN THE BERT MARTIN CASE

Jurors Stood Four for Conviction and Eight for Acquital—No Court Held Today

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What time did you come on Saturday?

A. Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, I suppose.

Q. About three. How did you get here that evening? How did you get here that evening?

A. I got here—Kissinger.

Q. How?

A. Earl Kissinger.

Q. When you went home Friday evening, you told Kissinger you would be back Saturday?

A. No, sir.

Q. Well, you didn't come on the train?

A. No, sir.

Q. And Kissinger got in his car and brought you back to town?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. With Kissinger?

A. Sure.

Q. Did you have any more booze that evening?

A. I didn't know where them fellows got it.

Q. What fellows?

A. Kissinger.

Q. And who else?

A. Jim Palmer.

Q. Bert wasn't there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now, what time did you get through shooting craps on Saturday?

A. Oh, along in the evening.

Q. After the train had gone?

A. Yes, the train had gone.

Q. Where did you shoot craps that evening?

A. Down at the greenhouse.

Q. Down at the greenhouse. Where was you Saturday night?

A. Over at the Moose Cafe.

Q. Over at the Moose Cafe. What time did you go to bed?

A. I don't know—went to bed pretty early.

Q. Now which one of these three days was it you say you saw Bert Martin over at the Cafe?

A. Saturday evening.

Q. After the crap shooting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Kissinger and Palmer at that time?

A. I don't know where they was at.

Q. I will just ask you a question or two about the check. Did you ask Joe Kern there in the Moose Cafe if he would pay your check for $6, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Bert Martin was there in the Cafe at that time, wasn't he?

A. I couldn't tell you whether he was or not.

Q. Let me ask you, George, if you don't remember that you asked Ed Kern, the clerk over there, to cash you a $6 check—by the way you had lost all your money in the crap game?

A. The $6 check went right over to Buel's and cashed it.

Q. Well, I say you were wanting some money there that day—you had lost your money in the crap game and you wanted some money?

A. Yes, sir, I wanted some money.

Q. And you asked Mr. Kern if he would cash your check, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now let me ask you if when that happened, and Mr. Kern told you that, that Bert Martin was standing down at the other end of the counter, and if he didn't there voluntarily speak up, or one of you spoke up to him and asked him if he had a little money to cash your check?

A. He did not.

Q. How?

A. No, sir.

Q. And didn't you ask Mr. Kern to write the check?

A. I might have asked him to write the check.

Q. And he did write it?

A. He might have wrote it for me.

Q. He wrote the check for Mr. Martin, payable to Mr. Martin for $6, didn't he, and you signed it?

A. Yes, I signed one.

Q. Now is that the check you were buying this booze with?

A. No, sir.

Q. Well, what check was it then that you bought booze with?

A. Joe Buel cashed the check.

Q. Joe Buel?

A. Yes, sir, had a check over there for $3 or $4—$6 check.

Q. Do you mean Joe Buel, or Charley Buhler?

A. Charley Buhler, I guess they call him.

Q. The merchant over there on the south side, and butcher?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now let me ask you if this is not what happened: Mr. Kern wrote that check, and you signed it and give it to Bert Martin and Bert took it and went into Buhler's store and cashed it, and while he was in there, out of that check he bought a bottle of "morning glory"—and you know what "morning glory" is?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have drunk a barrel of it?

A. I just tasted it, and that is all I wanted of it.

Q. Did Bert do that, out of that check?

A. No, sir.

Q. Out of that check?

A. Nt that I know of.

Q. And came back in there, in the Moose Cafe, where you and Mr. Kern were, and then all three of you stood there at that counter and drank that "morning glory?"

A. No, sir.

Q. You say that didn't happen?

A. No, sir.

BUTLER BOY WINS NOTORIETY AS VIOLINIST AT PUEBLO

Ferdinand Butler, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Butler of Pueblo, Colo., former Maryville residents, recently graduated from the biginner's course in the violin department of the Schwinger school of Music at Pueblo. The little boy is the youngest child ever receiving a diploma from the school. His graduation recital was remarkable in that he played eight violin solos from memory . He also was recently asked to play for a Railroad banquet at the Congress Hotel at Pueblo. The boy's picture was publihsed about two weeks ago in the Pueblo Chieftain.

Master Butler's father, Leo Butler, formerly made his home with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pope of this city. Mrs. Butler was formerly Miss Marion Hilgert and is a sister of Mrs. Art Garten of this city.

WANTED—EX-CAVALRYMAN TO TEACH GIRLS RIDING ART.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—What former cavalryman or artilleryman wants to teach a vacation camp full of young women to ride horseback this summer?

Colonel Robert H. Tyndall, Indianapolis, has requested national headquarters of the American Legion here to find a master equestrian for him. The riding instructor must be a veteran of the World War and an experienced horseman, qualified to teach. The girls will be in camp three months on a beautiful island in Lake Michigan.

Colonel Tyndall spoils the romantic possibilities of the offer, however, by stipulating that the young women's teacher must be thirty-five years old, married and prepared to take his family along with him.

PARNELL TO HAVE BIG FREE CHAUTAUQUA

Over 100 Persons Have Pledged Themselves to Support Movement—Geo. Fenton, Chairman.

Parnell will have a big Free Chautauqua next summer if the movement which has recently been started, continues to develop. A number of Parnell's progressive citizens met at the City Opera House last Thursday and discussed plans for such a chautauqua next summer.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the affair composed of Geo. L. Fenton, Chariman; Fred Messbarger, secretary and treasurer; R. C. Rhoads, Dr. Hiram Day and J. H. Thompson. Over one hundred persons of Parnell and vicinity have pledged themselves to help put over this movement. According to the arrangements of the committee, everyone who attends this chautauqua will be admitted free and the expenses will be born by the one hundred or more signers.

At Thursday's meeting the committee appointed was invested with the power to contract with Chautauqua companies and appoint other committies to help put over this movement.

CATTLE AND HOGS LOWER LAMBS STRONGER

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 11, —Liberal receipts of both cattle and hogs caused a further decline in prices. Cattle were down 15 to 25 cents and practically back to the low point in early February. Hogs were down 25 to 40 cents with the market under the 9 cent level for the first time in two months past. The top on hogs today was $8.85, and bulk $7.85 to $8.75. Sheep were steady and lambs strong.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 15,000 cattle, 13,500 hogs, and 7500 sheep, compared with 12,000 cattle, 10,500 hogs, and 6000 sheep a week ago, and 1025 cattle, 1050 hogs, and 3100 sheep a year ago. In this week last year a strike among switchmen tied up the traffic.

Beef Cattle

With liberal receipts here and a heavy run in Chicago, cattle prices were unevenly lower. Here prices were off 15 to 25 cents, mostly 25 cents. Handy weight steers and choice yearlings declined the least, and rough heavy steers the most. Choice steers sold at $8.50 to $8.75, yearlings up to $8.75, and heavy steers up to $8.60. Heifers were 15 cents lower and cows down 15 to 25 cents. Veal calves sold slowly at weak prices.

Stockers and Feeders

Though there was a fairly good demand for stockers and feeders, especially the better grades prices were weak to 25 cents lower, largely because of the decline in fat steers. The approaching grazing season is increasing demand. Few cattle are going on feed.

Hogs

Hog prices today crumpled under the 9-cent level for the first time since early February. The decline was 25 to 40 cents making a net loss of $1.25 in the past seven days. Chicago with receipts of 50,000 was 25 to 50 cents lower, and demand for light weight butcher hogs on all eastern markets is decreasing. Indications are that light and heavy hogs will sell at a narrower price spread in the next few weeks. Today's top price was $8.85, and bulk $8.00 to $8.75. Pigs sold at $9.00 to $9.75.

Sheep And Lambs

Trade in the sheep division was fairly active with lambs quoted stronger and sheep steady. Lambs sold mostly at $8.25 to $9.25 and ewes $5.50 to $6.00. Yearlings and wethers were scarce.

Horses And Mules

With receipts of horses and mules about the same as on preceding Mondays, prices were unchanged. There was a fairly good demand for the better classes, and common kinds were slow sale.

TOWN TO HAVE SERVICES OF PHYSICIAN BECAUSE WELL

Otis, Mass. So Healthy Dr. Threatens To leave Unless He is Paid Regularly

Pittsfield, Mass., April 8.—While the Berkshire town of Otis is seeking a law making legal the subsidizing of a doctor by a town, another Berkshire town, on the New York State border, West Stockbridge, is having an invasion of physicians.

West Stockbridge, in a valiant effort to get a doctor, included an article in the town warrant authorizing the payment of $500 to any physician that could be secured.

The article was tabled, however, when is was learned that such an appropriation would be illegal.

Since then, however, the town has been swamped with applications from doctors from all over the state and from Keene, N. H., Providence, R. I., and New York.

It is considered remarkable that so many doctors should apply, as West Stockbridge is probably one of the healthiest cities in the State.

There has been no death in the town since last October, no case of typhoid in the memory of the oldest inhabitant and only one case of tuberculosis.

West Stockbridge has a population of 1,058, and with the neighboring towns includes a population of 4,000.

The little town of Otis is not so well off as its doctor threatens to leave if the town fails to appropriate for him. Chairman of Selectmen Arthur W. Jones has been unable to get definite advice as to the legality of such an appropriation, and he has written to Representative Charles H. Shaylor, of Lee, an appeal for authentic legal advice. Otis is on the Lee-Huntington trolly line, which was run one season and then abandoned. It is thirteen miles from the nearest railway.

STATE REVENUES WILL NET ENOUGH

STATE TREASURER ESTIMATES COLLECTIONS AT $30,000,000.

NO NEED TO CUT DOWN

State Treasurer Says Surplus Left by Democrats Will Insure Against Deficit.

State Treasurer L. D. Thompson has prepared an analysis of the figures representing the probable income of the State of Missouri for the next biennial period which he says shows that it will not be necessary for Governor Hyde to trim any of the big appropriation bills passed by the legislature. The figures are to be offered to the Governor although they were not requested by him, Mr. Thompson said.

The Governor has said that he intends not only to "shave" the appropriation bills, but to "cut into them with a corn knife." It is common report around the capitol that he infends to veto items that will total at least $2,000,000 and possibly a great deal more than that sum, on the theory that the revenues of the State will not be sufficient to warrant the expenditure of the money.

State Auditor George E. Hackmann, who early in the winter prepared an estimate of the revenues for the coming biennial period fixed the probable income of the State for 1921 and 1922 at approximately $29,000,000 and he said Thursday that he has not had occasion to revise that estimate. He added that in making his estimate he took into consideration the probable reduction in income taxes and a probable increase in inheritance taxes but did not include any item for increase in the interest on state moneys on deposit with banks. This latter item alone will net the State virtually half a million dollars more in the next two years than it did in the last two years, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Hackmann say, because of the increased interest rate now being received for the use of state funds. The average rate received by the State now is 5.70 per cent as compared with slightly more than 3 per cent for the last two years.

Mr. Thompson estimates the inheritance taxes will net the State at least a million dollars more in the next two years than they did in the past two. He has gone over the estimate budget made by the State Tax Commission and declares that virtually every item on it is too low. The Tax Commission estimated the income from State taxes on real and personal property for the coming period at $8,700,000, which is virtually what it was for the last two years, while Mr. Thompson believes the full valuation assessment made by the State Board of Equalization will net at least $300,000 more than that sum.

"Taken all together," Mr. Thompson said, "including the surplus of more than four million dollars left by the administration, I estimate that the state revenue for the next two years will make more than the approximate $30,000,000 needed. Even should the State lose all of the corporation franchise taxes, we still have the surplus left by the Democrats which would offset the loss.

The Legislature has appropriated in all, including the one-third transferred to the school fund, about $30,000,000 and we are certain to collect at least that much revenue, so I can see no reason for cutting down the appropriations."

"We only Bought Rat Poison Twice," writes Jesse Smith, N. J.

"I threw the first kind away; couldn't be bothered mixing it with meat, cheese. Then I tried Rat-Snap. SAY, that's the stuff! It comes in cakes, all ready to use. And it sure does kill rats." 35c, 65c $1.25.

Tells Childless Women What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are very fond of children and for a considerable time after we married I feared I would not have any owing to my weak condition. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I have a nice strong healthy baby girl. I can honestly say that I did not suffer much more when my baby was born than I used to suffer with my periods before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound years ago. I give all the credit to your medicine and shall always recommend it very highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wisconsin.

How can women who are weak and sickly expect or hope to become mothers of healthy children? Their first duty is to themselves. They should overcome the derangement or debility that is dragging them down, and strengthen the entire system, as did Mrs. Janssen, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and then they will be in a position to give their children the blessing of a good constitution.

A Fund of Information That You Should Have

Disraeli, who for six years was prime minister of England, said: "It has been my observation that the most successful man in any undertaking, is the man who has the most information."

It doesn't require any particular infromation just to go out and buy something. But to buy the best of that something at a price that is satisfactory to you—that is a successful purchase. And to make successful purchases you must have information.

Advertising gives you just that kind of information. It tells you where to go in order to get the best of anything you want at a fair price.

That is why it is a paying proposition for the man or woman who handles a pocket book to study the advertisements in this newspaper—regularly—every day.

To those who use it properly, newspaper advertising is a source of economy and satisfaction that never runs dry. It is a watch-dog of dollars—a guarantee of satisfaction.

Trueblood-Danner Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Mary Helen Trueblood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Trueblood, of Oklahoma City Okla., former Maryville residents, and Harris L. Danner, took place Wednesday evening of last week in Oklahoma City. The bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gillam of this city, attended the wedding. The following is taken from the Daily Oklahoman:

"Of much social interest, although very quiet, was the wedding of Miss Mary Helen Troublood and Mr. Harris L. Danner which took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Trueblood, 321 West Fourteenth street. Only a few intimate friends were present to hear the marriage vows read by Rev. G. Depreitere.

The decorations throughout the house were in pink and white, immense baskets of spring blossoms being used in the hall while in the living room where the ceremony took place, the bridal party stood before a background of palms and ferns relieved by tall pedestal baskets of roses and carnations.

Preceding the ceremonty Mrs. Charles B. Ames sang Gounod's "Ave Maria" with violin obligato by Mrs. Frank Buttram. Mrs. W. Frank Wilson, who accompanied Mrs. Ames, also played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party descended the stairs. Miss Elizabeth Ames, the bride's only attendant wore a gown of silver lace over orchid satin and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a simple gown of white satin, the bodice being mode with short sleves and soft folds of tulle about the throat, while the only trimming on the skirt was a drapery of tulle at the sides. Her veil fell from a cap of tulle and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. Edward Graham Blanton acted as best man for Mr. Danner.

A buffet supper followed the ceremony when the bride cut and served her wedding cake. Later Mr. and Mrs. Danner went directly to their own home at 2808 North Hudson avenue where they will receive their friends."

HARDING'S SMILE RIVALS TEDDY'S IN SERVICE

Hundreds Take Advantage President's Tri—Weekly At Home Reception All Greeted With Hartiness.

Washington, April12,—The Harding "How are you?" bids fair to outrival even the famous Rooseveltian "Delighted," both in point of service and hartiness of utterance.

During the first weeks of the new Administration it has been conservatively estimated at the White House executive officers that more than 6,000 people have grasped President Harding's hand in response to this greeting. This estimate applies only to numbers received by the President during the half-hour reception that he devotes daily three times a week to a "public reception" and takes no account of the hundreds that have seen Mr. Harding by scheduled appointment.

The public receptions are arranged for 12:30 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. President Harding, however, has not yet learned the knack of keeping his engagements up to their schedule, and rarely does the line start moving toward his office before 1:30. The people begin to arrive at the executive offices about 11 o'clock, and it is not an unusual sight to see a line of well-wishers massed from the doors of the offices nearly out to Pennsylvania avenue waiting patiently for hours to grasp the hand of the new chief executive.

Secret Service On Job.

Once the line gets started it is handled with "neatness and dispatch." Mr. Harding stands near the center of his circular and handsomely appointed office and the crowds are kept closed up and moving by the Secret Service men and Patrick E. McKenna, the efficient veteran doorkeeper. Once in a while the progress of the crowd is halted by the President himself as he recognizes a personal friend or stoops to pick up a child. After shaking the President's hand each person continues on and through another door out of the building.

The people are loud in their praise of this phase of the Harding return to "normalcy." Such ejaculations as these are always heard as the crowds file into the White House grounds after one of these receptions:

"Wasn't it wonderful?"

"He looks like a real President."

"It was certainly worth waiting for."

"Isn't he a handsome man?" this of course, from the feminine contingent.

Old timers at the White House say Mr. Harding allows people to impose upon him because of his unfailing courtesy and readiness to respond. They say many engagements are made for the President with people who say they only wish to pay their respects. The President after receiving such callers invariably asks them to be seated. White House etiquette requires that the caller excuse himself on the plea that he should not be taking up the President's time, but it has been so long since a President has given himself so completely to the people that this rule has evidently been forgotten and consequently Mr. Harding daily gives up more time to people than he has planned and has to do considerable night work to keep up to his schedule.

NOTHING MATTER WITH MODERN GIRL, SAYS DEAN

She is Sweet, Good, And Kind At Heart—Has Stood Lots Of Hard Knocking.

Chicago, April 12—The modern girl and her mode of personal adornment have stood a lot of knocking from those who sigh for the "good old days," but now the "m. g." has found a staunch defender. Mary Ross Potter, dean of women at Northwestern University, answers the oft-uttered question: "What's the matter with the girls of today? by declaring: "Not a thing."

"There is nothing wrong with the girl of today because she uses a lip stick and a little rouge and a dab of powder," Dean Potter said.

"Of course, the dress of the girl of today—skirt to knees almost, flimsy stockings, flimsy everything—is not the dress of mother's generation. Nevertheless, she is sweet and good and kind at heart.

"She has independence—a bit of frivolousness—that did not belong to her mother's day. She doesn't like to be ordered about. She wants to hold up her head and go her way as she sees that way.

"But such a spirit is the spirit of the times. It is the result of the war. Our soldiers felt that when they came home after serving their country no one had a right to order them around—regulate their every move. And I believe they were right, too.

"The girl of today has that spirit. There is the frequent criticism that our present-day girls prefer business careers to marriage. Yet they are most affectionate and excedingly emotional, too emotional, I think.

"It is this emotionalism that is one of the problems of the day. But try to understand them, do not be harsh with them. For I feel sure that from the present day girl will develop a higher type of womanhood.

"It is true we have more delinquents than formerly. That, too, is a sign of the times, and a very great problem. I hope we will face it bravely and solve it."

EVERY WOMAN SHOLD LOOK NICE SAYS CLERIC

London, April 11,— "Every woman should look nice as she can. It is her duty as a Christian woman, but it must not be done in a spirit of Competition with others."

This was the keynote of a sermon preached by Dr. Rosslyn Bruce, in Bristol Cathedral.

He also said that he was tired of hearing golf talked about from the pulpit. Returning to the subject of women's dress he declared that the pleasure of dressing well was obvious and that too much was said against the desire of women to look their best.

GIRLS ARE WORKING WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Fair Co-eds Of Modern Kind Earn Good Portion Money At Northwestern University

Chicago April 12—Boys always have worked their way through college. Now the co-eds are doing it too. For despite the drop in the high cost of living, getting a university education still is expensive.

"Nearly 60 per cent of the 7,200 students at Northwestern are working their way through school," said President Walter Dill Scott.

"The modern student is a good student. Some say that his father was the best—this is, the fathers do—but the modern boys, and not forgetting the girls, are working their way through college by using their heads. Not so many young men now shovel snow and tend furnaces."

President Scott said a college education was easy to get in these days, because so many people were interesting themselves in education.

Professor Henry G. Gale, dean of the College of Science of the University of Chicago, said 55 per cent of the students there were working their way through school.

"The jazz-hounds greased hair boys and the all-night toddling co-ed are in such a minority at this university that they receive publicity because of their rarity," he declared.

Figures show 55.5 per cent of all the men are paying their way through the University of Illinois entirely or in part. Of this number 9.2 per cent are bearing the entire expense. The remaining 43.7 per cent are earing part of their expenses.

According to a survey made by the Pan-Hellenic council from nineteen organizations, it costs approximately $900 a school year for men students at the University of Illinois. It was found that the real expenses of the average student were from $750 to $850. This includes food, clothing, housing, educational expenses and incidentals.
